

 Chapter 1: My rights & responsibilities online

 Lesson Plan: Basic WWW right ****

 Author: Carsten Groene, Germany

Task: If there were no laws and restrictions whatsoever so that you could do anything you wanted, what would it be? Write down at least 4 things:

Task: Now think about what your actions would mean to other people/your friends; would there be any negative consequences for them?

Activity 2: A look at the EU Charter of Fundamental Rights

One of the EU's important legal documents is the "EU Charter of Fundamental Rights" (http://www.europarl.europa.eu/charter/pdf/text_en.pdf). Go through chapter 1 "Dignity" and identify the rights that you think are most important when using the internet.

Activity 3: A first glance of the booklet WWW

Task: Use the reading technique "scanning" (<http://www.aacc.edu/tutoring/file/skimming.pdf>) to quickly go through the booklet "Web We Want" and identify chapters and pages on which the following rights from the EU Charter are dealt with. One right can often be found on several pages and in several chapters.
